Justification

With the international sport industry developing faster than ever, the financial needs of sport organizations have been undoubtedly multiplying exponentially. Alongside and in response to this need, we also see the multiplication of opportunities for sport organizations to further generate and maximise their revenue, through the exploration, development and application of various contemporary and novel monetizing strategies. In this certificate, we offer a broad and thorough examination of the monetizing strategies adopted by sport organizations, including all customer-focused, business-focused and alternative revenue generation strategies used within the sport industry. Professionals working or aiming to work within sport clubs, sport governing bodies, and marketing or commercial agencies undertaking this certificate can learn how to capitalise on sport fans', businesses' and other organisations' relationship and interest in sport, to further grow the sport organizations, utilise their assets and maximise their potential in generating revenue.

Objectives

By establishing objectives, we give ourselves a clear idea of what we want to achieve once the teaching and learning process of this course has finished. But our aims are even more specific: we also want to establish what you will need to accomplish in order for this new knowledge to contribute to your educational goals.

To achieve these objectives, you must complete the entire process laid out in the different stages of the course.

Thus, if you work in the way suggested, you will be well-positioned to meet the following objectives:

General objective

To establish a wide appreciation of how sport organizations can generate and maximise revenue.

Specific objectives

- 1 Understanding of how sport organizations generate revenue from customers.
- 2 Understanding of how sport organizations generate revenue from other businesses.
- 3 Understanding of novel ways of gaining revenue.

4

Understanding of how fan engagement can be monetized.
